AS YOU LIKE IT

Many travel companies refer to their offerings as tailor-made, but it seems few could come close to the exclusive London travel company Brown + Hudson's truly bespoke service. No trip exists until it has been created in collaboration with a client, with painstaking care and astonishing attention to the minutiae that could make your trip a genuinely one-off experience.

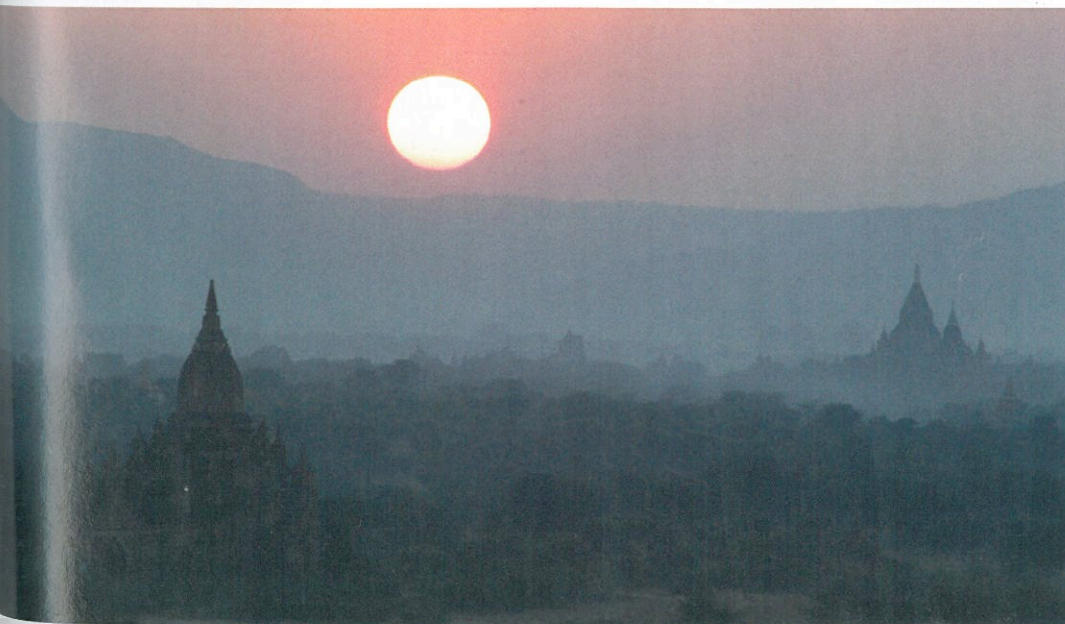

Catering for discerning international clients, they offer luxury travel around the world, from Africa to Antarctica, crafting a unique experience from your personal requirements, needs and desires. How about a being given a private cookery lesson by Fez's best chefs, and the finest in Morocco, a behind-the-scenes look at the famous Moreno de la Cova Ganaderia bull ranch in Andalucía, or even learning about the subtle rules of free-market communism from a Vietnamese entrepreneur?

The planning doesn't stop there; Brown + Hudson also works to ensure that the smallest detail of your trip will not be overlooked, from flying in your favourite wines, single malts and cigars to a remote luxury camp, to arranging a satellite dish so you can catch up with the BBC News. Whatever you desire, Brown + Hudson can help you make travel into an exquisite experience, rather than just another holiday.

TRAVEL FACT:

With a height of around 8,850m, the summit of Mt Everest is the highest point on Earth. Nevertheless, this majestic mountain on the border between Nepal and Tibet continues to grow an estimated 4mm each year, due to the clash of tectonic plates underneath it.

WEBSITE OF THE MONTH:

Explore the many weird and wonderful global goings on listed at What's On When, which offers an easy-to-navigate yet comprehensive guide to festivals and events taking place throughout the world. Whether your passion is for film noir, beer or oil wrestling, you will be able to find an event that will make your holiday genuinely unforgettable.
